Ecowaste and Richmond Industrial Centre

A Canadian-owned, privately-held company, with nearly 50 years of waste management experience, Ecowaste Industries operates a 160-hectare landfill for the disposal and recycling of construction, demolition and excavation materials. This material is returned to the earth or renewed into products such as compost, bark mulch and crushed concrete for sale. Ecowaste's vision to optimize construction and demolition waste diversion through advanced and innovative recycling technology.

02:30 PM – 04:00 PM

Lulu Island Winery

Discover the history of the winery and how the first plantings in Richmond spearheaded the wine production. The winery uses the best grapes from the Okanagan Valley to produce award-winning reds, whites, fruit, and icewines. The Okanagan Valley has optimal temperatures for many grapes especially icewine grapes which need to reach freezing temperatures before harvesting. Blueberries are grown in Richmond by farmers and made into fruit wines. The grape waste is put back into the land to enrich soil and to reduce waste.
